

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

In a decoding method of decoding encoded image data which has been hierarchically encoded in advance, a size of an image to be outputted is 5 determined, and then the encoded image data is decoded up to a layer of hierarchy which is at least one layer more than a minimum number of layer/layers of hierarchy necessary to acquire an image of the determined size.

10